—Two monuments which, for size and beauty, will compare favorably with almost any stone in Janesville, are being prepared by Mr. F. A. Bennett. —Yesterday was the twenty-sixth birthday of Miss James A. Fathers, and in order to duly celebrate the event, his good wife made preparations during the early evening and sent out invitations to a number of intimate friends, all Odd Fellows, to join with her in a little surprise upon her husband. The plan worked well. At the close of the Odd Fellows lodge, (No. 90) last evening, the party repaired to Mr. Father's house on corner South Main and South First streets, and awaited his coming. "His foot-steps" were heard upon the walk, the lights were turned down, and in came the "gentleman of the house" looking the door after he entered. Going into the sitting room and then to the parlor, he stumbled upon the party, remarking that he thought when he got home at that time of night, it was about time for other people to be out, as he always locked the door on entering. He was given a cordial greeting by all, and a few hours were spent in social conversation and innocent games, followed by the entire party surrounding a well-proportioned table, loaded with choice delicacies, to which ample justice was done. Just before the party bade Mr. and Mrs. Fathers "good evening," or rather "good morning," Patriarch Volney Atwood presided a beautiful upholstered easy chair to Mr. Fathers, as a slight token of respect from his friends, and the party separated, wishing Mr. and Mrs. Fathers many years of happiness and prosperity.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

They Talk of Scarlet Fever, the Plague, and Other Nuisances.

The board of health held a special meeting last evening in the city clerk's office. Mayor Winans, the president of the board, being absent from the city, Health Officer Dr. O. P. Robinson, was elected president pro tem. The roll call showed Alts, Barabam, Daly, Lemmertz and Shearer to be present—one member—Ald. Rooney—absent.

Dr. Robinson remarked, on taking the chair, that he did not know the objects of the meeting, but had received a notice from the mayor to attend. The meeting was an informal one. Dr. Robinson stated that there were but four cases of scarlet fever in the city known by him, naming Mr. Ed. Tullman's child, Jackson street, first ward; Mr. Charles Atwood's little girl, Jackson street, fourth ward; Mr. Charles Vinay's child's Eastern avenue, third ward; and David Propper's child, Center avenue, fifth ward. He thought there was no necessary alarm; that all these cases were of mild form, and that it was common to have as many if not more cases in the city, and no panic created thereby. The reports had got into the papers, and had been magnified until the people had become panicky from fear, which ought not to be the case. The turn of the remarks of the health officer, indicated that scarlet fever, although in the city, was not such a cause for alarm among the people. All physicians had a far as he knew, been very prompt in reporting cases of contagious disease, and the four cases above referred to were all that were known. The three cases of scarlet fever in the third ward, which proved fatal, were reported by the attending physicians. The case on North Main street did not prove to be scarlet fever.

Dr. J. B. Whitney, of the school board was present by invitation. He had not seen a case of scarlet fever in sixty days, and regarded the reports more in the light of a scare. He thought it detrimental to the business interests of the city to circulate such unfounded reports as had been current lately. The doctor suggested, however, that in case of scarlet fever, even in small pox, public fear should be avoided. All present were convinced by the remarks of Dr. Whitney and Robinson, that Janesville is now comparatively free from scarlet fever.

The big gun on Main street, discussed, and in the course of the debate, some of the large lieutenants did not escape severe condemnation.

The result of the meeting was the passage of a resolution instructing the marshal to abate nuisances at once.

A poor Italian finds $75,000 in gold. Signor A. Valtone, the person who suddenly came into the possession of a fortune, is one of the proprietors of the Hotel d'Italia corner of Pacific and Sansome streets, San Francisco, California. He drew the $75,000 in the February drawing, on ticket No. 123,000, in the Louisiana State Lottery for $50,000. He is a little black-eyed Italian, about 35 years of age, and bears a very good character. He takes his good fortune very quietly. He has put his money away, without having made any change yet. He made a statement to the press, of $100,000, and is going to celebrate his fortune by keeping open house all next Sunday—San Francisco (Cal) State Chronicle, March 3.

The Common Enemy.

In order to make headway against the common enemy, Disease, it is necessary to oppose him with persistence. It very frequently happens that a remedy perfectly adapted to the necessities of the case if persisted in, is condemned and thrown aside because a few doses of it do not cure a malady. How unreasonable and unjust would such a judgment be regarding Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, now, and for the future, the most and highly sanctioned medicine of the day, a potent invigorant, and an invariably successful remedy for constipation, dyspepsia, liver complaint, incipient rheumatism, neuralgia and gout, lumbago and weakness of the kidneys, and for the infirmities incident to the decline of life. No fact is better established than the above, yet in order to experience its truth, those afflicted with obstinate forms of disease should give this benignant curative a trial. Where it fails, they may rely upon decisive curative results.

"Oh, Dem Golden Slippers."

The man who spends all his time sing-ing about the golden slippers which he hopes to wear in the next world, is liable to go through life ornamented with a pair of last year's brogans, badly run down at the heel, but the man who takes a rational interest in the prospective slippers and an active interest in the every-day stages, is likely to enjoy better health while he lives and a clear title to an inheritance when he crosses the treacherous tide.

Life is just long enough, if properly spent, to enable every man, woman and child to wear good shoes all the time. A little money will go farther just now in this class of goods at 10 and 18 River St., than at any other store in the state.

The stock of boots and shoes which Mr. Winslow has been selling for the past few days, is rapidly disappearing. Call and secure a bargain before it is late.

F. S. Winslow, the C. O. D. man, who still sells 17 lbs. of granulated sugar for $1.00.
